

Paras K. Pandya, M.D.

Address:

Business: Medical College of Virginia Hospitals
Department of Emergency Medicine
401 N 12th Street
Room G-503
P.O. Box 980401
Richmond, Virginia 23298
(804) 828-4859

Education:

Residency
June '96 – June '99 Department of Emergency Medicine
State University of New York at Buffalo Medical/Dental Consortium

Medical School
Aug '92 – May '96 State University of New York at Buffalo School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences
Degree: Doctor of Medicine

Undergraduate
Aug '88 – June '92 State University of New York at Buffalo
Degree: BA Biology

Certification:

Board Certification – Emergency Medicine
Written Boards: 2000
Oral Boards Results Pending
Advanced Cardiac Life Support
Advanced Trauma Life Support
Pediatric Advanced Life Support
Base Station Medical Director
Instructor, Basic Life Support

Licensure:

United States Medical Licensing Examiners
Commonwealth of Virginia Board of Medicine, 1999

Professional Memberships:

American College of Emergency Physicians
Society of Academic Emergency Medicine
American Medical Association

PracticeExperience:

Assistant Professor
Medical College of Virginia Hospitals
Richmond, Virginia
July '99 – Present

Deaconess Hospital Immediate Treatment Center
Buffalo, New York
January '99 – June '99

PublicationsAnd Research:

Jenkins' Manual of Emergency Medicine. 4th edition. "Trauma in Pregnancy". 1998.

Griffith's 5 Minute Emergency Medicine Consult. "Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis". 1997.

The Utility of Human Simulator in the Training of Medical Students. Currently ongoing.

Special Skills:

Emergency Ultrasound
Emergency Fluoroscopy
Emergency Telemedicine Consultation

EMSExperience:

240 Community Service Hours in Buffalo, New York
Residency Coordinator – "Mercy Flight" Air Medical Services
Specialized Medical Assistance Response Team

Personal:

Birthplace: Buffalo, New York
Married on May 30th, 1999
My wife, Sonia, is an intern in the Department of Internal Medicine at the Medical College of Virginia
Interests: Golf, hockey, skiing/snowboarding, tennis, and soccer.

References:

Furnished upon request.