

VDOE's T/TAC at VCU is pleased to announce the

That Classroom: Design to Learn Classroom Makeover Project

Where classrooms go from this...

to THIS!

What Is It? The Flip That Classroom: Design to Learn Project is an opportunity for teachers to receive assistance in developing classroom organization techniques, structured schedules and activities. T/TAC Program Specialists will help you reorganize and restructure your classroom to accommodate specific schedules and activities. The Flip That Classroom: Design to Learn Project will help you create a setting tailored to meet the needs of all students in an optimal learning environment. Priority will be given to inclusive classrooms (classes serving students with and without IEPs or 504 plans).

Who Can Apply? General and Special Education Teachers in region 1 and region 8 public schools across Pre-K-12th grades are eligible to apply. Collaborative teachers are encouraged to apply.

How? Go to <http://www.vcu.edu/ttac/behavior/> to view previous projects and download an application or call our T/TAC office directly to request info at (804) 828-6947 or toll free at (800) 426-1595.

When? Completed applications must be received by 5pm on April 24, 2009. Winners will be notified on or before May 5, 2009 and must attend orientation on May 19, 2009.

What Does It Cost? It's free! T/TAC will provide materials and resources to transform your classroom.

What Is Required? The selected classroom teachers and the building administrator will:

- ✓ Schedule classroom observation and planning sessions prior to the makeover
- ✓ Agree to videotaping and photographing of the classroom makeover process
- ✓ Provide administrative and building level maintenance support
- ✓ Schedule time for the project
- ✓ Work with T/TAC Program Specialists during makeover project and follow up activities
